Denville Community,

In Denville, we are fortunate to have a staff union, an administration, and a board of education who actively collaborate to identify and foster educational best practices. Although this continues to be a divisive issue and some districts around the state find their professional stakeholders at odds, the Denville BOE, administration, and DEA co-presidents have been frequently communicating to incorporate the judgment and concerns of each group of professionals. We will continue to work together during this challenging time and maintain our devotion to open communication between staff, administration, and the community.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Cuff, Co-President
Denville Education Association
