Livestream Instruction & Educational Services

As you are aware, the school district is working diligently and creatively to ensure your child's safety and peace of mind for the 2020-2021 school year. To that end, we have determined that a hybrid instructional model for the upcoming school year may help mitigate the spread of COVID-19 and provide for the health and safety of our school community. To effectuate a hybrid instructional model that may include both in-person and virtual learning, the school district may implement livestream instruction and/or educational services to consenting students that would allow them to engage in synchronous learning and maintain, to the extent feasible, their regular school schedule during virtual, or remote, learning.

Livestream instruction could necessitate group-based, interactive learning during which other parents/guardians/caretakers could overhear or possibly observe your child's participation in the learning. During livestreamed instruction, please understand that there would be no expectation of privacy over the information that your child may disclose during the virtual lesson or discussion, or in his/her image or voice. In other words, your child could be visible and audible to other members of the public as if s/he were participating in a discussion with peers in a public library. Please know that these discussions would be of the curricular content being taught. Any off-topic discussion by students will be redirected by teachers and instructional support staff.

Parents are expected to refrain from actively listening to or viewing their child's livestream so that a more familiar classroom environment can be cultivated. Parental abuse of the livestreaming services could result in the removal of the child's livestreaming privileges. To ensure your understanding and agreement with the rules for your child's participation in livestream instruction, your consent below is required.

If you authorize your child's participation in classroom livestream instruction, please complete the below form below and check the appropriate box.

Thank you for your consideration and for your support.
